SEN Report

Aims

At St Maxentius Church of England Primary School where we believe and achieve together, we strive to include all pupils including those with Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND).

This document is intended to give you information regarding the ways we ensure we support all of our pupils, including those with SEND, in order that they achieve and realise their full potential.

Our SEN information report aims to address the needs of all pupils with Special Educational Needs and Disabilities. It includes information for identifying, assessing and making provision for pupils with SEND.

The kind of SEN that are provided for

The broad area of SEND needs are categorised mainly within four areas. They are listed below with some examples. Our school currently provides additional and/or different provision for a range of needs, including:

- Communication and Interaction
Autistic spectrum disorder, Asperger's Syndrome, and Speech, language and communication difficulties.
- Cognition and Learning
Dyslexia, dyspraxia, specific learning difficulties, moderate learning difficulties, severe learning difficulties and profound and multiple learning difficulties.
- Social, Emotional and Mental Health
Social, emotional and mental health difficulties and attention deficit hyperactivity disorder (ADHD).
- Sensory and/or Physical
Hearing impairment, visual impairment, visual impairment, multi-sensory impairment and physical disabilities.

These difficulties can be in isolation or be complex – having needs in two or more of the above areas.

Identifying pupils with SEN and assessing their needs

We will assess each pupil's current skills and levels of attainment on entry, which will build on previous settings and Key Stages, where appropriate. Class teachers will make regular assessments (half termly and termly) of progress for all pupils through teacher judgement and our assessment system PiXL. Children who are working below their year groups expectations will be assessed using the Birmingham SEND Toolkit to identify their gaps in learning. Teachers will identify those whose progress:

- Is significantly slower than that of their peers starting from the same baseline
- Child's previous rate of progress is working below the expected for their age-related expectations
- Fails to close the attainment gap between the child and their peers

"And when he finds it, he joyfully puts it on his shoulders and goes home.
Then he calls his friends and neighbours together and says
"Rejoice with me; I have found my lost sheep" Luke 15: 5-6

- Widens the attainment gap

This may include progress in areas other than attainment, for example, social needs. Slow progress and low attainment will not automatically mean a pupil is recorded as having SEN/SEND.

When deciding whether special educational provision/support is required, we will start with the desired outcomes, including the expected progress and attainment, and the views and the wishes of the pupil and their parents. We will use this to determine the support that is needed and whether we can provide it by adapting our core offer, or whether something different or additional is needed. At St Maxentius we explore avenues to close the gap of learning within classroom-based teaching and learning, such as 1:1 or group interventions. However, where this is not suitable, the class teacher will consult the SENCo for advice and the possibility of having an Individual Educational Plan (IEP) in place. Some children will have their own targets from the Birmingham SEND Toolkit which will then transfer into their IEPs, looking specifically at how these children will achieve the targets set for them.

Through this process, parents or carers will be consulted and will have the opportunity to respond with their views regarding the desired outcomes and targets for the child. Parents will give signed consent that they have been notified about the IEP and wish their child to receive this 1:1 by teaching professionals during school time.

If this is insufficient for the pupil and progress is hindered due to the pupil's need/s, the class teacher will consult the SENCo and parents. Specialist provision will be put in place to ensure the pupil is accessing learning through a provision map, differentiated learning, personalised targets, and range of teaching methods, strategies and resources, adaptations to teaching for individual children through targets set from the Birmingham SEND Toolkit etc. Other agencies may also be involved during this stage dependant on the complexity of the pupil's need/s.

Consulting and involving pupils and parents

If a pupil is assessed and identified as a pupil with SEN or additional needs parents or carers will be notified. We will have an early discussion with the pupil and their parents when identifying whether they need special educational provision. These conversations will make sure that:

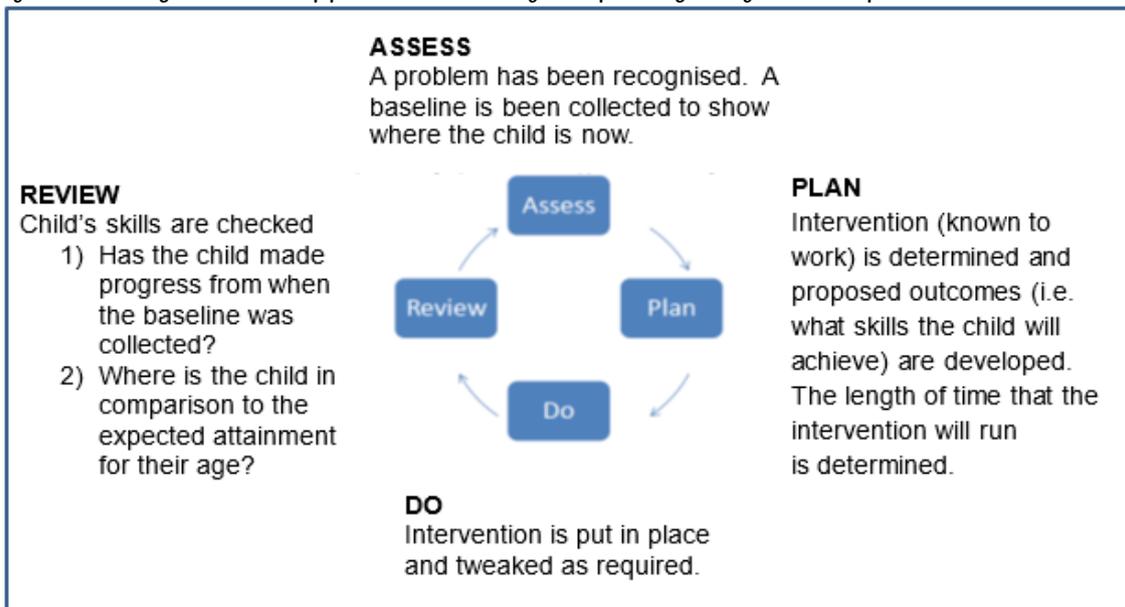

- Everyone develops a good understanding of the pupil's areas of strength and difficulty: we take into account the parents' concern
- Everyone understands the agreed outcomes sought for the child
- Everyone is clear on what the next steps are

Notes of these early discussions will be added to the pupil's record through early help reviews or parental contact forms. We will notify parents when it is decided that a pupil will receive SEN support and the provision in place.

"And when he finds it, he joyfully puts it on his shoulders and goes home.
Then he calls his friends and neighbours together and says
"Rejoice with me; I have found my lost sheep" Luke 15: 5-6

Assessing and reviewing pupils' progress towards outcomes

We follow the graduated approach and the four-part cycle of assess, plan, do, review.

The graduated approach, also known as 'SEND Support' is a way of helping to identify the needs of children and young people with Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND). It provides the most effective support to help them learn and progress.

The class teacher will work with the SENCo to carry out a clear analysis of the pupil's needs. This will draw on:

- The teacher's assessment and experience of the pupil
- Their previous progress and attainment or behaviour
- Other teachers' assessments, where relevant
The individual's development in comparison to their peers and national data
The views and experience of parents
- The pupil's own views
- Advice from external support services, if relevant
- Gaps identified through the use of the Birmingham SEND Toolkit

The assessment will be reviewed regularly.

All teachers and support staff who work with the pupil will be made aware of their needs, the outcomes sought, the support provided, and any teaching strategies or approaches that are required.

We will regularly review the effectiveness of the support and interventions and their impact on the pupil's progress.

"And when he finds it, he joyfully puts it on his shoulders and goes home.
Then he calls his friends and neighbours together and says
"Rejoice with me; I have found my lost sheep" Luke 15: 5-6

Supporting pupils moving between phases and preparing for adulthood

At St Maxentius, pupils experience transition when moving from Key stages: Key stage 1 to Key stage 2 and Key stage 2 to Secondary school. We will share information with the school or the other setting the pupil is moving to. We will agree with parents and pupils which information will be shared as part of this transition.

When moving phases within the school, pupils will receive a transition session which will help support them into their new class and new teacher. This will allow pupils to prepare for change. Transition information is passed up to the new staff through our in school transition forms followed by conversations at a meeting in which the SENDCo will be present.

When transitioning to secondary school, pupils will be invited to an induction day at their new school. This will be beneficial for both the pupils and teachers before the pupil enrolls to ensure they have a clear understanding of the pupils needs. The SENDCo and class teacher will hold transition meetings with the new secondary school to ensure the child's needs are met when they start school and to support the child in having a successful transition.

Our approach to teaching pupils with SEN

Teachers are responsible and accountable for the progress and development of all the pupils in their class.

High-quality teaching and quality first teaching is our first step in responding to pupils who have SEN. This will be differentiated for individual pupils. These teaching styles emphasis on individual and inclusive teaching for all pupils in a class. It also includes differentiated learning, strategies to support SEN pupils' learning in class, on-going formative assessment and many others.

We will also provide interventions suitable for the pupil, below are some examples:

- PiXL therapies
- Touch Typing
- Speech and Language
- Dyslexia Gold
- Precision teaching 1:1 targeted support
- Game-based learning
- Experiential learning
- Bespoke interventions for targets identified in the child's Birmingham SEND Toolkit tracker

Adaptations to the curriculum and learning environment

As a school, we adopt a flexible approach to making adaptations to the curriculum and the learning environment.

- We make the following adaptations to ensure all pupils' needs are met:
- Differentiating our curriculum to ensure all pupils are able to access it, for example, by grouping, 1:1 work, teaching style, content of the lesson, etc.
- Adapting our resources and staffing
- Using recommended aids, such as laptops, coloured overlays, visual timetables, larger font, etc.
- Differentiating our teaching, for example, giving longer processing times, pre-teaching of key vocabulary, reading instructions aloud, etc.

"And when he finds it, he joyfully puts it on his shoulders and goes home.
Then he calls his friends and neighbours together and says
"Rejoice with me; I have found my lost sheep" Luke 15: 5-6

- Where appropriate, use the Birmingham SEND Toolkit to identify gaps and deliver bespoke teaching either as a group or 1:1

Additional support for learning

We have a number of teaching assistants who are trained to deliver interventions. Teaching assistants will support pupils on a 1:1 basis when required to suit the pupil/s. Teaching assistants will support pupils in small groups when it is relevant to their needs. We work with the following agencies to provide support for pupils with SEN:

- Aspire Behaviour management
- CAHMS (Children and adolescent mental health services) Counselling services
- Ladywood
- Fort Alice
- SALT (Speech and Language Team)
- Integrated services

Evaluating the effectiveness of SEN provision

We evaluate the effectiveness of provision for pupils with SEN by:

- Reviewing pupils' individual progress towards their goals each term
- Reviewing the impact of interventions half termly and termly
- Using pupil questionnaires
- Monitoring by the SENDCo
- Using provision maps to measure progress
- Assessing progress for children on the Birmingham SEND Toolkits by updating their continuums termly at specified assessment weeks.
- Holding annual reviews for pupils with EHC plans

Support for improving emotional and social development

We provide support for pupils to improve their emotional and social development in the following ways:

- Access to emotion coaching from a trained teaching assistant
- Extra pastoral support arrangements for listening to the views of pupils
- Pupils with SEN are encouraged to be part of the school council
- Pupils with SEN have equal opportunities to be chosen for being a prayer space leader, head boy/girl, house captain or a member of the eco team
- Pupils with SEN are also encouraged to be part of extra-curricular activities to promote teamwork/building friendships

We have a zero-tolerance approach to bullying.

Staffing and outside agencies

At St Maxentius, we currently have the support of several Teaching Assistants with varied qualifications and expertise. This support is given to all children whom we feel will benefit from this, children at School Support and beyond will receive targeted support from a named member of staff. Time is available where the SENDCo can offer advice in planning and support for both children and staff regarding implementation of the schools SEND Policy.

"And when he finds it, he joyfully puts it on his shoulders and goes home.
Then he calls his friends and neighbours together and says
"Rejoice with me; I have found my lost sheep" Luke 15: 5-6

Other Local Authority Support Services such as:- ASPIRE, Ladywood Outreach, Educational Psychologist, Speech and Language Therapists, Special Needs Assistants (S.N.A.), counselling services, Fort Alice, CAHMS (Children and adolescent mental health services) are also working in school on a regular basis to support children with SEND.

Teaching Assistants are employed to concentrate on children who it is felt will benefit from a more concentrated focus 1:1 / small group work.

Complaints or raising concerns about SEN or SEN provision

If a parent has any complaints about SEND provision for their child, they should first arrange to see the class teacher to discuss their concerns. If a parent is still not satisfied then the SEN Co-ordinator and the Headteacher may become involved.

The parents of pupils with disabilities have the right to make disability discrimination claims to the first-tier SEND tribunal if they believe that our school has discriminated against their children. They can make a claim about alleged discrimination.
